

1933

Editorial

M. C. Swinford

Follow this and additional works at: <https://uknowledge.uky.edu/klj>

Right click to open a feedback form in a new tab to let us know how this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation

Swinford, M. C. (1933) "Editorial," Kentucky Law Journal: Vol. 21 : Iss. 3 , Article 6.

Available at: <https://uknowledge.uky.edu/klj/vol21/iss3/6>

This Special Feature is brought to you for free and open access by the Law Journals at UKnowledge. It has been accepted for inclusion in Kentucky Law Journal by an authorized editor of UKnowledge. For more information, please contact UKnowledge@lsv.uky.edu.

EDITORIAL

The members of the Bar of the state in general and the members of the State Bar Association in particular are to be congratulated that the Kentucky Law Journal has been made the official organ of the lawyers of the Kentucky State Bar Association.

This Journal, if read by members of the profession regularly, will be found very valuable.

It enlightens the mind of the young practitioner in quest of legal knowledge and will be of aid to him in his office in the preparation of his cases and will result in great value to him in the court room.

The reported cases as we find them in the reporters and law magazines play their part in the opinions but this journal in the discussion of Kentucky law and of the restatement of the law of contracts and torts with comments by able jurists on Kentucky opinions does much to promote the importance and dignity of the profession. Since the subscription has been reduced to a minimum, a copy of each issue should find its way to the desk of every practitioner.

From my reading of its contents from time to time I freely recommend it to every lawyer in the state of Kentucky

M. C. SWINFORD.

M. C. SWINFORD,
President Kentucky State Bar Association

1
2
3